The Compiler of the following pages had frequent opportunities in the course of his public duties, to make very considerable improvements in the Book of Roads which belonged to his Office, and he was induced to believe that its publication in this form, would be a work of general utility. The want of information on these points is felt, in every country, as the heaviest inconvenience to the private Traveller, and deranges in no small degree the regularity of the public service. For the general plan and design of the work he is indebted to Pattoy's Tables of Routes and Stages published at Calcutta, and to a work of a similar nature edited at Madras. In the execution of his design he has endeavoured, as far as was in his power, to give the information conveyed in the one in form of Notes, which he regrets are rather scanty, and he has adopted the form of the other as occupying less room. He could have wished indeed that he had been able to present the work to his subscribers in a more perfect form; but he trusts that the errors which may be discovered in this first impression, will not appear in a 2d Edition, which may be expected in the course of another year.

Towards the completion of his plan he earnestly solicits the communications of those friends who may enjoy leisure opportunities to contribute the information he is desirous of collecting. It is his intention, in a 2d Edition to state on a separate column of Remarks, the nature of supplies procurable on the route, and the facilities for obtaining them; whether there is abundance of water, forage, and grain, and the nature and quality of each. The principal produce of the district and the state of its cultivation; in what collectorate or Territory situated; the state of the roads and Ghauts in the dry weather and in the rains; on which bank of a River or Nullah the village may be situated; and any other remarks which may be useful to the traveller or troop passing through the country. The number of grain dealers shops will be pointed out by figures prefixed to the names of villages, and the second column of miles will shew the distances between the usual halting places.

The compiler gladly embraces this opportunity of expressing his acknowledgements for the kindness with which his Proposals have been received, and by which he has been enabled, under the pressure of many untoward circumstances, to bring his work to a conclusion.

Note.—The Katruj Ghat is impassable for Carts, as well as the Khandala or Hurrullee Ghat, but both are good roads for Cattle. In the rains the dawk experiences less interruption on this road than on any other in this quarter, which is a pretty correct way of judging of the general state of the road. Between Yelloo and Keekwee the road is bad in the rains.

Note.—The Seewutee Ghat is difficult but Bunjarees bring grain by this Route from the Konkan. The Mureh Ghat, which also branches off at Unnuchuter, is preferred by foot passengers from it being 2 or 3 miles shorter.

AURUNGABAD Vide III. ..	43 0	74 4

Note.—The Jawoor Ghat is impossible for carts or loaded cattle, there being a part of the road of about 200 Yards in length very rugged, which however might be repaired at little expence The approach to the top of the Ghat is good, and from Kospooree at the bottom is a good cart road to Hewra; superior perhaps to the road by the Nimba Dehra Ghat, excepting some broken ground, of about 200 Yards, between Chanda and Rastapoor.

Note.—The last five places are each on the south side of navigable creeks. I doubt much the correctness of this route especially in the distances: it agrees with no native route in my possession.

The road most frequented by natives travelling from Poona to Rutnaghury, after descending the Sewuttee Ghat, passes the town of Beerwarry, and over the Ghogra Ghat, passes the villages of Pureshram, Kapsal, Dhynweilee and Makhjoon to Rutnaghury. From Beerwarry the estimated distance is 52 Coss.

Note.—All the Rivers and Rivulets of the Northern Konkan (with the exception of the Oolasa, and one or two others) are dried up, or become stagnant, at a very early period in the fair season; at which time there is also a general deficiency of water and supplies, except of Rice, in both the Northern and Southern Konkan.

The Roads through the Konkan lead, alternately, over hard stony ground and patches of rich soil, which the natives plough up for the purpose of cultivation during the Rains: immediately after the Rains, it sometimes happens that no trace of a road is to be found, and the usual reply to an enquiry is, that the roads are not formed.

Carts are never used in the Southern Konkan, owing less perhaps to the poverty of the inhabitants, than to the nature of the Roads; which, always being as direct as possible, lead over Hills and Valleys This particularly applies to the Country south of the Sawutree.

Note.—The Cantonment at Mhow is 13 Miles from Sawgoord. The Dawk on this route has, I believe, been discontinued.

After leaving Jubbongaon Jungle commences and continues, with few intervals of open country, to the top of the Tanda Ghat. The chief inhabitants are Bheels, who subsisting chiefly by plunder, infest the highways, and, when they expect resistance from the way farer, do not hesitate at murder, by propelling their unerring arrows from behind a bush. The Jungle also abounds with tigers, especially at Bhaug, who commit daily depredations against the inhabitants and their Cattle. The road is generally good from Baroda; but after the rains, when the Jungle has attained its full growth, the road is unpleasant if not unhealthy.

Several routes in my possession, both by Gentlemen and Natives, agree in fixing it a good deal S. W. of its position on the Map. The Lat. and Long given in the India Gazetteer appear both considerably out.

Except at Nandra, plenty of good water is procurable at all the halting places. The country is generally open, but from Joudpoor to Kapera the population is thin.

Note—This Table has been prepared with the aid of Colonel Paton's Tables of Routes 2nd Edition, the East India Gazetter, and various manuscript routes.

These distances are calculated by the routes most frequented, which are generally the longest. To places in, and beyond, Malwa the distance may be shortened 70 miles, if travelled by Mulligaon and the Sindwa Ghaut to Mhow: and to places beyond Nagpoor, at least 40 miles, may be saved by Moongeepuitan and Oomrawutty.

Note.—The distances here given are always by the most direct route. For instance from Surat to Sholapoor is by Ahmednuggur 377—by Poona the distance would be 62 miles more.

List of Ghauts in the SYHADREE mountains, from the Ram Ghaut leading to Goa, to the Rhowra Ghaut, leading into the Attaveesee. Also the Ghauts of the INDYADREE Range.

THE SYHADREE RANGE.

RAM GHAUT, Vide XLI, LXXIV, and LXXX, leading to the Coast at Goa, Vingorla &c. is the best in that quarter. The approach to both top and bottom is very good, the ascent easy, and passable for every description of wheel carriages. The general breadth of the new road finished in the March 1821, is 30 feet, and where the windings are unavoidably abrupt, the breadth is so judiciously encreased that the draft is free and unembarrased. The tract of country below the ghaut is wild, hilly, and covered with large Trees, clumps of Bamboos, and thick underwood, with partial cultivation in the valleys.

AMBOOLY GHAUT, Vide CXV by which Colonel Dowse's Force descended to invest Raree. At that time the Pioneers of the Force in three days made it very passable for small Guns. The whole descent is stoney, and in no part very steep, but in consequence of several zigzag turnings great difficulty would be experienced in getting down, or dragging up, heavy ordnance. At the top of the Ghaut is a large Bowree, near which is a small piece of ground to encamp. At the bottom is a stream of fine clear water, and a small open space to encamp near the chowry.

THE GHOTYA GHAUT, leads from Kolapoor or Meeruj to Malwan. The road is very bad, but laden Cattle travel this road.

THE PONDA OR PHONDHA GHAUT, Vide LXXVII. Some years ago a detachmnet with artillery descended this Ghaut to Warree; the road was then made practicable for ordnance but it does not appear to be much frequented at present; with little labour it may be put in good repair. The approach from the East is by a steep ascent of about 200 yards, and passing a short way along a ridge of the mountains the descent is gradual for about two miles into the Konkan. There is much Jungle and forests of large timber on the hills. This Ghaut is in the direct line from Sholapoor to Malwan.

SEW GHAUT, leads from Kolapoor to the Konkan. Guns have in former times, it is said, been brought up this way, but it is now out of repair.

RHOWRA GHAUT, a road for foot Passengers.

KAJURDA GHAUT, is on the direct road from Kolapoor to Rajapoor in the Konkan: the road was formerly good for the passage of laden cattle, but is now stopped up that the customs, it is said, may be collected at other Ghauts.

THE ANNUSKOORA OR ANKOOSRA GHAUT, takes its name from a small village situated at the top, and is on the direct, and Dawk, road from Kurarh to Malwan. It winds a good deal through the hills, is about 3 miles in length, and is paved with large rough stone in a few places where it is a little steep. About the centre of the Ghaut is a Chokey for collections on the trade which frequents this road. Little labour might make this Ghaut practicable for Guns, but the approach to it in the Konkan is very bad. From Ankoosra there is a good cart road via Mulkapoor to Kurrarh. Karawaully near the bottom of the Ghaut affords a few usual supplies.

AMBEH GHAUT, This is said to be the best in the range between the Khundala Bore Ghat and the Ram Ghat. Captain Little's detachment after disembarking from boats near Sungumeshwur reached the bottom of this Ghat early in June 1790. The goodness of the road may perhaps be judged of from the circumstance of the Guns of the Detachment, consisting of 6 Six-pounder field pieces, with the heavy baggage, having been transported to the summit in a few days under the disadvantage of continual rain The bottom of the Ghaut is 35¼ miles from Rutnageery, and 20 miles from Sungumeshwur. The whole length to the summit is 2¼ miles: from thence to the populous town of Mulkapoor is 11¼ miles, and Kurarh is distant 36 miles.

THE TEURA OR TOURNA GHAUT, Vide XC, on the road from Sattara to Chiploon is difficult but passable for cattle. Constrasted with the Ambeh it is a great deal more rugged and steep. First an ascent occurs of upwards of half a mile, along the summit of which for one mile the road continues very rocky, when the descent commmences, and is for a mile and a half very steep, rocky, and difficult. At the bottom of this Ghaut is a plain of some little extent, enclosed on all sides by a jungle, which serves to encamp on. Another Ghaut named the OSSARLA, is now to be descended, which is, if possible, worse than the preceding; being, although not so steep, equally rugged, and of a greater continuance. See Narrative of Captain Little's Detachment.

THE KOOMBHURLEE GHAUT, leading from Chiploon to Sattara, and also to Kurarh, has lately been made passable for every description of laden cattle. The approach from Chiploon to the village of Koombhurlee is about eight miles, and over a good road. From thence to the bottom of the Ghaut is 2¼ miles; and the length of the Ghaut is about 7 miles. From the top to Patun is 5 or 6 miles and a good road. This Ghaut is said to be now superior to the Ambeh Ghaut, and certainly far exceeds the Tewra. Patun (better known at a distance as Patunkhora, a name of the district, from its situation among hills) is a large Kusba on the right bank of the Koyena River, Koombhurlee is a respectable village affording the usual supplies for a small party.

THE PAR GHAUT Vide, LXXXVIII, on a usual route from Sattara to Bankoot. At about 20 miles road distance from Sattara is the small village of Kooroolshee situated at the bottom of a small, but difficult, Ghaut which bears its name. Having ascended this Ghaut the road leads along table land for 6 or 7 miles to the Kurtoonda Ghaut, which descend and cross the Koeena River to Par, which is considered the Pettah of Purtabgurh. The top of the Par Ghaut is about 3 miles from Par. The descent to Kinnaseer is about 4 miles—and Pholadpoor on the right bank of the Sawutree is about 8 miles from the latter place. This route is frequented by Brinjarries bringing grain and salt to Sattara from the Konkan.

AMBOOLY GHAUT, Vide LXXXIX, misnamed Bhooly, is on a usual route from Sattara to Dapoolee or Bankoot. The approach from the Konkan to the bottom is, generally, extremely bad: from the bottom to the summit, 2¼ miles, the road is rocky, steep, and nearly impassible for laden cattle--especially near the top where a part of the road is cut into steps. From the bottom the Town of Kher, or Khed, is 14 miles, in which distance there are three small Rivers, the Mohna, Jugbood and Chorud, and three nullahs, to be crossed.

THE KUWLA GHAUT, leads from Poona down to Mhar. It is a very bad road for cattle. though it is sometimes traversed by Brinjarries.

KOOMBHA GHAUT, is very steep but is accessible to cattle. The road winds a good deal, and is about 8 miles in length.

MUREH OR MUDHER GHAUT, on the road from Poonah to Mhar, has good road for foot passengers but is impassible for loaded cattle on account of a rocky precipitous descent about the middle of the road. Dassgaon is 15 miles from the bottom of the Ghaut.

Sewuttee Ghaut, Vide XLIV, on the usual road from Poonah to Mhar, is accessible for cattle, but is a very bad road, being in many places nearly stopped up by large rocks. The descent is very tedious, and it is little frequented by foot passengers who prefer the Mureh Ghaut which also branches off at the Unnuchutur.

The Telbelva, Garolot or Sewashnee, and Sayu Ghauts, lead from Poona to Nagotna. The three Ghauts branch off at Awulus above, Vide XLV, and lead to the Warree of Jamulpara below. The first is accessible only to men,-the second is said to be accessible, but difficult, for Guns or Carts-and the third is frequented by loaded cattle. At the top of the latter is situated Ambowna, about two miles West of the Fort of Kowarree. The approach to the Ghaut is a cart road.

Bhor or Bore Ghaut, from Poona to Panwell, Vide XLVI, leads from Khandalla above to Khopoollee below, it is a little steep near top and bottom, but is a good made road the whole way.

The Raj Mauchee Ghaut, leads from the Fort whose name it bears, to the inconsiderable village of Khurroundee below situated on the Oolassa river. The Ghaut is said to be 4 miles long by a winding road, and only accessible to foot passengers.

Kussoor Ghaut, leads from Tullehgaon Vide XLIX to Kallian. The road is passable for buffocks laden, winds a good deal, and is about 2½ miles long. The small village of Kusoor is about a mile from the top, and the large village of Beupooree 2 furlongs from the bottom.

The Saolacha, foot Ghuat.

Kolumba Ghaut, accessible to foot passengers only is 2 miles south of Khotelgurh,-Close to this Ghaut is another (name unknown) difficult and precipitous foot Ghaut, by which a light detachment of the 4th Regiment ascended to Englud and surprized a party of Coolies in February 1818.

Koulachadur and Nakindadur Ghauts for unladen cattle, and Auduradur, for men only, lead up to Khotelgurh which forms the focus of the three. From the Fort to Amboolee below is 2½ miles,--from the latter to Sheeloo, Vide XLIX, via Palitrudge is 12½ miles.

Ghar, Oomrah, and Goomar, Ghauts, leading up to Seedgurh hill Fort, are only accessible to foot passengers. From the Fort to the flourishing village of Narrolee below, is about 2 miles, Narrolee to Morebaur Vide CXXIV is 10 miles measured.

The Owappah and Kontee, both foot Ghauts below Gomehgurh, the first has been stopped up. Dussye is 5 or 6 miles from the foot of it.

Borunda foot Ghaut. leads up to Byramgurh.

Nana Ghaut, south below the Fort of Joodhun is about 12 miles from Joonere. From Ghatghur, which is the peth of Joodhun, to Wysakra a small village below the Ghaut is about 5 miles The road is frequented by loaded Bullocks in the dry season, but in the rains a part of the road, which has been cut through the rock in the form of steps, is dangerous for the passage of cattle. Though a great deal of road distance would be saved by this route from Kallian to Ahmednuggur a native, having baggage and followers, would in any season prefer the circuitous route of the Khandalla Bhor Ghaut to any of these Ghauts. The large village Dussye is 3 miles and 7 fur. from Wysakra, and about 14 miles from Morebaur.

Malsej Ghaut, north below Joodhun. The large Timber from the forests near Wuzeerabhaee, and other places in the Konkan, was formerly brought up on double carts through this Ghaut. The road winds a good deal—is about 6 miles in length—but it is in no part so steep as several places in the Khundalla Boré Ghaut. During the last war the Marattas broke up the road leaving only a foot path.

Mainda or Mendha Ghaut Vide CVIII. leads from Dholkhum by Hinglood at the bottom, to Ghatgurh a little beyond the top of the pass and thence to Rajoer—The lower part of the road is good but the upper is steep, stoney, and dangerous, for cattle, it is however a good deal frequented by Brinjarries—There is a little bad water procurable about half way up, and from a Tank at the top—From Dholkhum to Hinglood, which is a little off the road, is three miles: from thence to the top of the Ghaut, 3½ miles.

Choonda or Choonda Mendha Ghaut, three miles east of Dholkum, leads from the deserted village of Choonda at the bottom of the Ghaut to Ghatgurh above: the ascent is about three miles, and is only passible for men or single cattle—It was formerly frequented but is now so bad is to be entirely discontinued as a bullock road—The Fort of Ruttunpoor is about 6 miles from the top.

The Goondah and Owuttah foot Ghauts lead up to Koolung from the Konkan.

Peepree Ghaut or Peepree Bhor Ghaut leads from Wassula below to Peepree above, Vide CXXIX. It is a very hard, stoney, road, through a hilly, and rather Jungly, country—The Ghaut is of easy ascent, and might be made a very good one, but in consequence of the approach to it being bad, will probably never be much used for military purposes—This is one of the usual roads from Nassik to Basseen, Kallian &c. From Peepree to Nassik is about 32 Miles.

The Tull Ghaut Vide CI and CII is also on the route from Nassik to the coast in the Salscette direction. The road has lately been repaired but the approach to the Ghaut in the wild country below, offers too many obstacles to admit of it ever being frequented as a cart road.

Seer Ghaut South of Trimbuck, leads from Deogaon above to Khundalla below—it is on the principal road from Basseen to Trimbuck, and is said to be passable for carts.

The Waghaira or Wadegeyra Ghaut on the road from Trimbuck to Kursool is said to be a good road for carts.

The Amba Ghaut from Nassik to Dhurrampoor Vide LIII is a good road for cattle approaching from the East, the decent from Ramshaid is a steep but good road; then along a plain extending about 4 miles, and again ascend a steep Ghaut to Ambegund. From hence the route lies over an undulating surface to Dhurrampoor.

Mounja Ghaut leads from Nasik to Peint, Kurruckwaul &c.

The Sawal Ghaut leading from Chochergaon and Kolsce above to Deogaon below is by far the best between the Rhura Ghaut and Nassik, and it has been lately repaired by the Madras Pioneers. This is the usual road from Damaun to Won Dindooree &c.

Purrusgherry Ghaut leads to Peint, Kurruckwaul, Futtepoor, Belaulgurh, Omergaon.

Rhowra or Ruwra Ghaut Vide LI and CVII leads into the Atteeveesee. In the rains the approach to the village of Rhowra is over a deep muddy road: from the village to the top of the Ghaut is better, and the Ghaut which is about one mile in length, is not passable for carts—many parts of the road as far as Baunsda present greater obstacles than the Ghaut itself does.

THE INDYADREE RANGE.

The Rowra Ghaut at Chandoor has lately been repaired by the Madras Pioneers, and is now a good cart road though steep.

The Kassurbarry Ghaut is a good cart road every where.

The Nimbayet Ghaut on the road from Munmarh to Malligaon is hardly passable for carts but might easily be made a good cart road :—it may be avoided by going round two or three miles to the Eastward.

Note.—This List is prepared principally from native information—To be complete it should include all the Ghauts in both ranges, distinctly describing whether wheel carriages can pass through, whether accessible to cattle laden or unladen, or to men only: the length of the Ghaut, its direction, and inclination; of what nature and where are obstacles; the villages at top and bottom; the defiles or ravines which communicate with the road; Plantations, Jungle, Hamlets &c. contiguous. and every thing should be remarked which might be useful in a military or commercial point of view. This I hit is for my brother officers who may be obliging enough to contribute towards a second edition hereafter.

Descriptive Lists, or contributions towards the formation of them, of the Fords and Ferries on the Mhye, Nerbudda, Bumass, Godavery, Kistna, and Toongabudra, as they will be valuable acquisitions for a second Edition, so they will be very thankfully received by the compiler.

A Tattoo with a driver earns 15 Rupees per month; a Bullock 5 Rupees, and 4 Bullocks are accompanied with one man.

Tattoos engaged at a fixed sum for the journey are entitled to ½ rupee per diem Batta for every halting day exceeding the usual number: a Bullock to 50 Reas a day; and Hamalls and Coolies to 50 Reas a day.

A Bullock should carry 80 seers, or 160 pounds weight.

A Cooly 28 Seers, or 56 pounds weight.

MEMORANDUM.

The rates of Hire of Hamals in Poona are 7 annas per diem to each man going on a Journey, and 5 annas per diem returning empty handed.

A day's Journey is averaged at 18 miles, but it is of course at the option of the employer to go as little less as he pleases, but no more than 18 miles for a continuance with one set of bearers. Four days Journey going, is paid as three days returning empty handed. Thus, supposing to Panwell be performed in five stages from Poona, the Hamalls would receive going 35 annas (or five days at 7 annas each) and returning only twenty annas (or four days at 5 annas each day) in all 55 annas or 3 Rupees and 7 annas.

Note.—These rates have prevailed since the War, and though not declared to be permanently fixed will no doubt continue until the local authorities may find it necessary to revise them from any considerable increase or decrease in the general value of labour.

POSTED BEARERS BETWEEN POONA AND BOMBAY.

That Gentlemen desirous of travelling Dawk between Poona and Bombay may be aware of the expence, the following Estimate of a complete Palankeen Dawk, in the dry season, is here given.

For the first stage Poona to Kassarsaee the bearers are entitled to pay for -	2 days.
2d Stage Kassarsaee to Palee pay for - - - - - -	3½
3d Stage Palee to Khopoolee pay for - - - - - -	4½
4th Stage Khopoolee to Choke pay for - - - - -	6 16 days.

5th Stage Choke to Panwell, if furnished from Panwell, one Rupee to each man.

ESTIMATE.

13 Men, being 12 Hamalls and 1 Mushaul, at each stage at 6 annas each per day is 4 Rupees and 14 Annas :—and 16 days is. -- - -	Rs.	78 0
1 Set of 13 Men from Panwell at 1 Rupee each is. - - - -		13 0
Muccadum's fees for 52 men at 1 anna Ditto is - - - -		3 1
Oil Mushauls &c. may be reckoned - - - - - -		2 3
Total expence if furnished together from Poona and Panwell -	Rs.	97
If the 5th stage is furnished from Poona, the additional expence, being the difference between 7 days Pay including fees to Muccadums, and one Rupee per man, is - - - - - - - - -		21 3 75
Total expence if furnished wholly from Poona Rupees - -		118 3 75

After the Hamalls are posted those from Poona are entitled to 5 annas a day each, and the Panwell Hamalls to ¾ Rupee each for every day they are detained on the road; or 22 ½ Rupees to the whole per diem.

Any Gentleman following another and taking up the same bearers the following day, may satisfy the bearers by giving half a Rupee to each man, or 32 ½ Rupees to the whole set, besides the expence of Oil and Mushauls. If, however, a Gentleman is coming from an opposite direction, and takes up the return bearers, without their being detained on his account, a less sum should satisfy them. But it will occur to Gentlemen that the Hamalls cannot be compelled to this second trip, unless they have been previously engaged and warned.

The time between Panwell and Poona may be reckoned 22 hours. If a person halts during the heat of the day at any of the intermediate stages, one set less may be posted: for instance the set to Khandala may go on to Choke if allowed a few hours halt at the former place, but that set would be entitled to 7 days pay.

A person going from Bombay to Poona would find it perhaps the best plan to post two of the sets of bearers from Panwell; one to run from Panwell to Choke or Khallapoor, and the other from Choke or Khallapoor to the top of the Bhor Ghat.

Posted bearers recalled without being employed, are entitled to pay at five annas per diem for the number of days they were absent from Poona.

Palankeen Bearers are under the controul of the Collector and Bazar Master, and not under the Post Master as generally, and erroneously, supposed.

As the road between Poona and Bombay is now more frequented, a general knowledge of the Rules at the different Bungalows may be of benefit to all who are likely to travel on it.

THE FOLLOWING RULES ARE ESTABLISHED.

With a view to ensure comfortable accommodation to all travellers, and to prevent the abuses, which, by rendering these Bungalows uninhabitable, have hitherto, in a great degree, frustrated the liberal intention of Government in erecting them, all persons who object to the rules are requested either to pitch their Tents, or put up else where.

1st No persons shall occupy this Bungalow for a longer period than three days unless in case of sickness.

2d Whoever first comes is entitled to a preference of rooms, but it is expected that every reasonable attention will be paid by first occupants to the comforts of those who may succeed them; and that they will not appropriate the Bungalow entirely to themselves, unless their party be so large as to require the whole of it.

3rd It is earnestly requested that Gentlemen will not scratch or deface the walls by writing or attempting to draw on them.

4th All persons (excepting Ladies) who may stop at this Bungalow are requested to write their names, and the dates of their arrival in the Book that will be brought to them.

5th Every person who occupies the Bungalow shall pay half a Rupee for each day, or part of a day, he may stop.—This levy will defray the expence of Sweepers to clean the House and out Houses &c. but should the attentions of the Sepoys in charge not be satisfactory this payment is dispensed with.

6th No person must on any account allow their Bullocks, Horses &c to enter the Bungalow.—Any deviation from this rule will be immediately reported by the person in charge to the Collector, who will communicate the circumstance to the Commissioner for the notice of Government.

7th It is particularly desired that no person will allow his servants to cook in the Bungalow, or to commit any other nuisance that may be offensive to succeeding travellers.

8th The persons in charge of the Bungalow are enjoined under pain of removal and punishment to report to the magistrate any infraction of these rules by whomever committed.

Pressing Coolies &c.

BOMBAY CASTSE 15TH DECEMBER 1821

GENERAL ORDERS.

BY THE HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS the authority vested by Regulation VII 1814 in the Collectors, and their Native Officers, and in the magistrates and their Police Officers to assist in procuring coolies for the purpose of facilitating the march of detachments of Troops, or the progress of individual Travellers, has operated to encourage the highly injurious practice which prevails, of forcibly pressing certain classes of the Inhabitants of the Towns, and villages under the denomination of Begaries, or Coolies, for the purpose of carrying baggage or other loads from stage to stage, or from village to village; and whereas the Governor in Council has deemed it expedient to adopt measures for the intire suppression of the said highly objectionable practice the following rules have been enacted, to have effect throughout the whole of the territories immediately subordinate to the Presidency of Bombay from the date of their promulgation.

Such part of the provisions of Regulation VII 1814, authorise the Collectors, and their Native officers, or the magistrates and their Police Officers to give their official aid in procuring coolies for the purpose of facilitating the march of Troops, or the progress of Civil and Military Officers or other individuals travelling through the country, either in the Public Service, or on their private affairs, is hereby rescinded.

The practice of pressing or compelling individuals, whether under the denomination, of Coolies, Beggaries or any other denomination to carry burthens either for the public service or for the convenience of private individuals, is hereby positively prohibited, and the several magistrates, and joint magistrates are required to adopt all legal means in their power to put an intire stop to the practice in question, by inquiring fully into all complaints which may be brought before them, and by subjecting persons regularly convicted of the offence to such penalties as on a consideration of the circumstances of the case may appear to be proper and consistent with the powers vested in the magistrates by the General Regulations.

By Order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council.
F. WARDEN,
Chief Secretary.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS, occurring throughout the Work.

BALA GHAUT, signifies above the Ghauts, or the country extending in from a Ghaut. It particularly is applied to the country of the Nizam within his western hills.

BATE. An Island.

BOODROOG or BOODROOK. A corruption of Boozoorg, great.

CHICKA. DAKHLA, DHAKTA. LAHAN, prefixed to names of Villages, signify the lesser.

KHADEE or KHAREE, A Creek.

KHIND. A small Pass or Ghaut, generally used to designate a place where there are hills on each side of the road though there may be neither ascent or descent.

MOTA, THORLA, Great, frequently prefixed or affixed to names of villages.

NAKA. A Custom Station, generally where several roads meet.

PADA or PARAH, or WARREE, A Hamlet or small Village dependent upon another larger one.

KOS or COSS. The Kos from the Nerbudda to nearly the Kistna above the Ghauts may be computed at about 2 miles. At Kurrarh at 2 ½ miles encreasing progressively from thence till it attains the length of 3 miles at Belgaon. In the Southern Konkan about Bankoot the Koss exceeds 2 miles, and at Malwan it is fully three; and the Koss bhur 4 miles. In Goojrat it is 1 ½ mile, and from Loonawarrah and Palanpoor it encreases from 2 to 2 ½ miles towards Rajpootana. In Kattiwar it encreases from 2 miles to 2 ½ as it approaches Cutch.

The following explanations of a few words may be useful to some travellers.

DHURUMSALA. A House, in or near a Village, for the reception of Travellers. In most Villages of India there is a Temple, a Dhurrumsala, and a Chowry, which is the Village Town Hall.

UNNUCHUTUR. Is a House endowed with means to supply Hindoo Travellers with food where not readily procurable; and the difference between a Dhurumsala and an Unnuchuttur is this, that the latter name is applied only to a place where food is dispensed, and the former indiscriminately to every place erected for the repose of Travellers.

MUTT. Is the name of a Gosain's quarters; one chief Fukeer called Mhunt presides over the Fraternity who pay him all obedience, and give him the title of Gooroojee. The Moosulman terms that answer to Mutt and Murry, are Tukeea, Khanka, Soumia.

DURGAH, also Musheed and Rouzeea, is a place where the tomb of same Saint is preserved.

PAGODA, used by Europeans to signify a Hindoo Temple supposed to be a corruption of Bhagavada. Moor.
